PENSION LAW IS VALID.

The Court of Appeals Friday affirmed the Franklin Circuit Court, upholding the constitutionality of the Confederate pension act of 1912, and granting James Harp, of Frankfort, a Confederate pensioner, a writ of mandamus requiring State Auditor H. M. Bosworth to issue a warrant for his February pension claim. Judge Lassing dissented.

The opinion of the court was written by Chief Justice Hobson. Over 600 pensions at $10 the month have been granted, and 300 applications are before the board. It was estimated in the Attorney-General's brief that the pensions will amount to an annual expenditure of over $300,000.

COURT ADJOURNED.

June Term Ends After Pressing Business is Disposed of.

The June term of the Bourbon Circuit Court was adjourned Friday by Judge William Reed of Paducah, who had presided since last Tuesday, and who had disposed of all the pressing business on the docket, and a number of cases in equity.

Hon. Emmett M. Dickson filed the mandate of the Court of Appeals in the case of H. H. Hamilton against the Christian church Widows' and Orphans' Home, of Louisville. This was a case in which Mr. H. H. Hamilton sought to retain possession of his son, Carey Hamilton, who had been placed in the home a number of years ago. The boy was later given into the custody of Mr. Frank Bedford, and the father sued for the possession of the child. In the lower court Judge Stout decided that the boy should be returned to the Orphans' Home, and the father took appeal, but the lower court was sustained.

Judge Reed directed the child to be delivered to the Sheriff within fifteen days who in turn should deliver him to the Christian Church Widows' and Orphans' Home, at Louisville, and enjoin Mr. Hamilton from removing the child from the state.

EXCELLENT FISHERWOMAN.

Mrs. Lavinia Hendricks, of Lexington, guest of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Wilcox, in this city, has developed into an angler that will make many of the local followers of the sport sit up and take notice. Mrs. Hendricks has been here about a week and during that time has spent much of her time fishing, with the result that she has succeeded in landing 525 fish of various sizes and varieties. Many of her catches have been rather large while a majority have been fish of smaller species.
